

Who can complete and submit this form?

Both parents must complete and sign the form. The parents are the birth mother of the child and the person named as a parent in the court order.

Do I need to provide the court order with the form?

Yes, you will need to provide a certified copy of the court order with the completed form.

Can I amend the surname of my child?

Yes. You can choose a different surname which can be either or both surnames of the parents. Both parents must indicate that they consent to any change in the child's surname.

Can I choose a surname that is not one or both of the parent surnames?

This is allowed under certain circumstances. The agreement of the General Register Office (GRO) or the Superintendent Registrar (SR) is required. The form is available from GRO or at your local civil registration service office. Contact us at dahr@welfare.ie for more information.

What happens if we do choose a new surname but the form is not signed by both parents?

The surname of the child will remain that which was previously registered.

What is a label/title?

A label/title on a the birth certificate will indicate the relationship of the parent(s) to the child. The person who gives birth to the child will already have the label/title of "Mother" or "Parent". The mother can choose to retain the current label/title or to amend it to "Parent".

Where the other parent is male, he can choose a label of "Father" or "Parent". Where the other parent is female the label "Parent" will be automatically assigned.

What happens if we do not enter a label/title choice or we do not both sign the form?

The label/title of the birth mother will remain that which was previously registered, and the other parent will be assigned the label/title of "Parent" regardless of gender.

Why do I need to choose a local civil registration service office?

The consent of the relevant Superintendent Registrar (SR) of the area is required prior to the re-registration. GRO will acquire this from the relevant SR as part of the processing of your application.

Where can I find my nearest local civil registration service office ?

The locations are available at the following link

<https://www2.hse.ie/services/births-deaths-and-marriages/contact-a-civil-registration-service.html>

What happens after the form has been submitted?

GRO will process the form and contact the parents if there are any outstanding issues. The information will be entered in the registration system for completion at your chosen office.

How will the re-registration be carried out?

GRO will contact you when the birth is ready for re-registration. You will need to attend at your chosen civil registration office with Photo ID for both parents, the letter from GRO and a certified copy of the court order.

Will it be possible to sign the register?

Yes, it will be possible to record both of the parent signatures on the birth register.

What happens if either parent are unable to sign the register?

You can request an exemption from signing the register. Your local civil registration office will provide you with the application form. When completed, the form should be submitted to the registrar, and it will be forwarded to GRO for approval.

Can I sign the register now?

All local Civil Registration Offices are currently closed to the public due to the Covid-19 emergency. It will not be possible to sign the register whilst the closures are in place.

However, your application can still be processed in advance of the offices re-opening to the public.

How do I complete the form?
